

The airwaves belong to all of us. The Sinclair Broadcast Group has no right to present their one-sided viewpoint on a critical election without equal time given to the other side. Money already determines elections to too large a degree. If we give the airwaves away to the monied interests as well, the average person will have lost his/her voice in the election process.